Bay-Waveland Yacht Club charter changed; club now exempt from paying property taxes

The BWYC is under scrutiny because it changed its charter in 2015 to become a "fraternal and benevolent" organization which is exempt from paying ad valorem taxes.

BY GEOFF BELCHER
NEWS EDITOR

The Bay-Waveland Yacht Club board has faced some fiery criticism in the past few days after it became public knowledge that a former board changed the club's charter in 2015, making it exempt from paying ad valorem taxes.

An ad valorem tax is a tax based on the assessed value of an item, such as real estate or personal property. The BWYC used to pay more than $19,000 per year in ad valorem taxes, but the board changed the by-laws nearly three years ago, making its status a "Fraternal and Benevolent" organization. It does not have non-profit 501(c)(3) status, but does qualify for the ad valorem exemption.

"This is disappointing to me on many levels, because i don't like aspersions cast on the yacht club as an organization," Lana Noonan -- a founding member of the Hancock County Alliance for Good Government and a member of the BWYC for the past 40 years -- said Monday. "We're enjoying city services, but unlike everybody else, we're not paying for them. I think ad valorem is the last break we should get. We're trying to build back this community. ... All of this commotion for that little bit of money, for the most elite of Bay St. Louis."

Hancock County Tax Collector-Assessor Jimmie Ladner said Friday that he's been blasted, as well, and unfairly so.

"The truth of the matter is that when I first took office in 2000, the then-leadership of the yacht club came to me and

Naval Oceanography partnering with NUWC in ANTX 18

BY GEORGE LAMMONS
NAVY INFORMATION FORCES
PUBLIC AFFAIRS

The Naval Meteorology and Oceanography Command (NMOC) is continuing to advance its unmanned underwater systems operational expertise during the annual Naval Undersea Warfare Center (NUWC) Advanced Naval Technology Exercise (ANTX) this month.

Newport, R.I.-based NUWC, which sponsors an annual event in Newport, is partnering with NMOC this year on the Mississippi Coast to do operational testing of promising new unmanned underwater and surface technologies in a series of events designed around actual operational scenarios. NUWC invites representatives of academia, industry and the military to Newport to observe new unmanned underwater vehicle technology -- hardware, vehicles and software.

Naval Oceanography's role in ANTX is to test and evaluate emerging unmanned systems into operational mission scenarios in the Gulf of Mexico to see what works, how well it works and its potential utility in future Navy operations.

"While Naval ANTX events have been going on for a number of years, this year is the first time an ANTX event has occurred along the Mississippi coast and we couldn't be happier to cohost this event," said Rear Adm. John Okon, NMOC commander. "It is a recognition of our expertise in the operation of unmanned underwater vehicles. It gives us the opportunity to test and evaluate some of industry's newest unmanned systems and enable us to rapidly deliver accurate atmospheric, oceanographic and hydrographic information to the fleet using more efficient methods."

NMOC will conduct a "Demonstration and Media Day" on Aug. 22, as part of the Oceans in Action Workshop in Gulfport, Miss., to capstone their portion of the ANTX event. The Newport part of ANTX will be held Aug. 29-30. The Naval Oceanography "vignettes" occurred in the Mississippi Sound and the Gulf of Mexico this summer as teams from the Naval Oceanographic Office, Naval Oceanography Mine Warfare Center, and Fleet Survey Team operated new technologies to meet fleet objectives. Their Naval Oceanography Special Warfare Center unmanned systems team will conduct their operation test in Narragansett Bay during the event in Newport.

NMOC, based at Stennis Space Center, Miss., uses unmanned vehicles to collect atmospheric, oceanographic and hydrographic data to characterize the fleet's battlespace environment and for specific Navy operations in mine warfare, in special warfare, in bottom mapping, and in anti-submarine warfare.

Todd Bowers, NMOC ANTX lead, said NUWC was interested in partnering with NMOC because the Mississippi Coast

Hancock supers move to invest $4 million

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE
STAFF WRITER

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors on Monday authorized County Administrator Eddie Favre to work with Trinity Capital Investors to implement an investment program.

Supervisors President Blaine LaFontaine said one of his concerns included "tying up" a large amount of the county's funds in investments, "even though the way Trinity is structured, it allows us to pull that money at any given time."

"Right now, we're projecting this fiscal year about $6.6 million cash balance in the general fund," LaFontaine said. "Eddie, the team and our employees have rolled in over $3 million in settlement funds from different projects or other accounts."

If the county invested about $3 million for a 36-to-39-month term, LaFontaine said, and with a yield of about three percent annually, it would generate about $400,000 interest.

LaFontaine added that he viewed the investment as a "low-risk opportunity."

"It gives you more capital spending three years or two years from now," he said. "And it doesn't impact your operations at all."

The motion passed unanimously and also included the stipulation that the initial investment amount not exceed $4 million for the first 36-month term.

Mississippi Reports Two New West Nile Virus Human Cases, Advises Jackson Residents to be Aware of WNV

SEA COAST ECHO
JACKSON, Miss. – Today the Mississippi State Department of Health (MSDH) reports two new human cases of West Nile virus (WNV), bringing the state's total to 23 so far for 2018. The reported cases are in Calhoun and Hinds counties.
So far this year human cases have been reported in Adams (2), Calhoun (2), Copiah, Forrest (2), Hinds (9), Itawamba, Jones, Madison, Marion, Oktibbeha, Pearl River, and Washington counties. In 2017, Mississippi had 63 WNV cases and two deaths.
State Epidemiologist Dr. Paul Byers said that Jackson residents should be especially aware of WNV and the risk for infection. A total of nine cases have been reported in Hinds County this year, all within the Jackson city limits.
“We have seen a large proportion of the reported cases this year within the city of Jackson. Mosquitoes that have tested positive for West Nile have also been identified in the city,” he said. “While all Mississippians are potentially at risk for WNV infection – regardless of the city or county in which you live or whether cases have been identified in your area – we are especially urging Jackson residents to take precautions against West Nile.”

Byers said that Mississippi is in its peak WNV season of July through September, and that while most people with WNV infection recover without any long-term problems, some develop a more severe infection that can lead to complications and even death – especially those over 50 years of age.
Symptoms of WNV infection are often mild and may include fever, headache, nausea, vomiting, a rash, muscle weakness or swollen lymph nodes. In a small number of cases, infection can result in encephalitis or meningitis, which can lead to paralysis, coma and possibly death.

The MSDH suggests the following precautions to protect yourself and your family from mosquito-borne illnesses:
• Use a mosquito repellent with an EPA-registered ingredient such as DEET while you are outdoors.
• Remove all sources of standing water around your home and yard to prevent mosquito breeding.
• Wear long, loose clothing to cover the arms and legs when outdoors.
• Avoid areas where mosquitoes are prevalent.
For more information on mosquito-borne illnesses, visit the MSDH website at HealthyMS.com/westnile.

Time flies, even when you're not having fun

As I get older, I wonder where all the time seems to go and why it goes by so fast. There clock and the calendar tell me the hours, days and months are the same length they used to be, but somehow they seem a lot shorter these days.

I can remember bygone days of grandparents rocking away on porches and mothers maybe doing a little sewing or snapping beans, while some grandpas – especially out in the county – would have a keg behind their rockers. The more citified grandpas might keep theirs in the attic.

When I think back on all the things my brothers and I had to do each day, I wonder where we found the time to do them.

Not too many years ago, I would go for three-mile walks around the walking track in front of Hancock Medical Center five or six nights a week.

Now, I try to walk a mile-and-a-half. Of course, I can't walk quite as fast now as I could five years ago. I also now seem to need more sleep than I did when I was a youngster. It also takes me longer to do the things I used to do. I'm just not able to do as many things as I used to, simply because of a lack of time.

I have always enjoyed gardening, growing both flowers and vegetables, but now – even though I'm "retired" – I don't seem to have enough time to plant very much.

I guess everyone has to deal with time marching on as they get older. Maybe we just need to cut back on the things that we do as we mature.

It seems odd, though, since most modern conveniences have supposedly made everything quicker, almost "instant," certainly as far as food preparation is concerned. "Instant," doesn't necessarily mean "better," though.

I still miss my mother's cooking, compared to today's "instant" food. Fortunately, there are a few restaurants in our area that still put a lot of time and effort into their food preparation.

Today's youngsters seem to have much busier schedules than we used to have back in the 1930s and '40s. We did have a lot to do, but much of that was just survival -- procuring food, heat, etc., but we were not "Lone Rangers" by any means. The world has changed greatly for all of us, and the things the generations who came behind me needed to learn and do changed with it. But there are still constants – things we all need to know to survive and thrive. Our nation needs to review itself constantly and make sure that we have people trained in all the skills and trades necessary.

We all need to look at ourselves and realize, if there's something you want to learn or do, do it now. Time goes so very fast. That's something that every generation faces, one way or another.

How deadly is chronic loneliness

Health scientists tell us that we are being attacked from all sides, especially from deep within by a malady that appears to be reaching beyond infectious to contagious, even insidious perhaps into the realm of epidemic. It elevates our blood pressure and cholesterol, breaks down our immune system, brings on heart disease.

Stephen Marche wrote in the Atlantic in May, 2012, "Is Facebook Making Us Lonely? Social Media – from Facebook to Twitter – have made us more networked than ever. Yet, for all this connectivity, new research suggests that we have never been lonelier (or more narcissistic) – and that this loneliness is making us mentally and physically ill."

From our own experience, we know of a sadly frequent phenomenon where a huge percentage of human beings feel alone in the midst of their family members. Many unfortunates feel alone even in a crowd. And all this happens in a world where all our gadgets, cyber gizmos and entertainment stations are supposed to engage us alone and with others in a near utopian climate of fulfillment. We even call some of our communication marvels tools of the vaunted social media. Notwithstanding, much of humanity is mired in the throes of an epidemic of chronic loneliness. That includes 40 percent of humanity at large and a shocking 60 percent of the married.

Amazingly, running counter to the culture of the world at large then and now, some folks choose a solitary life, such as some hermits did in the early Church. For them, being alone did not equate to loneliness and heartache, but rather to calm meditation, contemplation and closeness to God. By their almost prohibitive degree of ascetical living, these devoted people demonstrate by their lives that loneliness is not a creature of our environment, but of our mindset and the weakness of our faith.

Known as the father and founder of desert monasticism, Anthony the Great moved to the Scetes Desert of Egypt in 270–271 AD. By the time he died in 356 AD, thousands of monks and nuns had been drawn to living in the desert following his example. His biographer, Athanasius of Alexandria wrote, "The desert has become a city." Apart from the Scetes Desert some monks and nuns went into Syria. The Desert Fathers/Mothers had a major influence on the development of Christianity.

So, what did the desert monks and nuns eat in the desert? Were they able to take some plants with them and grow their food? Or did they depend on the meager bounty of the desert? Did they eat something akin to the locusts and wild honey of John the Baptist, the cousin and forerunner of Jesus? That is extraordinary penance.

Yet, while the Desert Fathers and Mothers connected with themselves and God by actively seeking and embracing the solitude and aloneness of

Scissor-tailed Flycatcher

The scissor-tailed flycatcher (Tyrannus forficatus) is a striking bird. Measuring up to 13 inches in length, pale gray is the scissortail's predominant color that approaches white on the face and breast. The wings are blackish; the tail, black and white. Their scarlet "armpits" are mostly concealed while the bird is perched, and their scarlet crown patch stays hidden. The scissortail's flanks and belly are flushed salmon-pink, varying in brightness from individual to individual. The adult scissor-tailed flycatcher, with its extremely long tail, is only likely to be confused with the stray fork-tailed flycatcher, but this species has a dark cap.

Found only in a few states, the scissor-tailed flycatcher forms large pre-migratory roosts in late summer. It is not unusual to encounter flocks with up to 1,000 in number. These flocks often roost near towns, taking advantage of large trees as roosting sites.

The courtship between two scissor-tailed flycatchers is truly a sight to behold. Rarely viewed, the male scissortail soars to heights of 100 feet and makes a series of V-shaped flights, plunging down in an erratic, zigzag course while uttering a rolling, cackling call. He will hover about 3 feet above the ground for nearly 20 seconds and expose his magnificent forked tail, salmon-colored flanks, and crimson-tipped shoulders. The interested female will watch from where she is perched and cheer her suitor on by calling out, "cah-key...cah-key...CAH-KEY." The female will then construct a nest.

When building the nest, the scissor-tailed flycatcher will use many human products. Though the scissortail also uses plant material in building the nest, one study found that artificial materials account for nearly 30 percent of the weight of the nests.

Once the nest is constructed, the female will lay between 3 and 6 eggs. The eggs are white with dark markings around the larger end. When the eggs hatch, the fledglings are sparsely covered in white down and completely helpless. As it grows, the juvenile scissortail and molting adult will sport a much shorter tail than the adult and has a somewhat duller plumage.

Adult scissor-tailed flycatchers will capture most of their prey by aerial hawking, but they will also grab insects off of vegetation. Since their diets are largely composed of agriculturally harmful insects such as grasshoppers, crickets, and beetles, the scissor-tail is also an economically and environmentally beneficial bird.

This magnificent wonder of nature was almost completely wiped out at the turn of the 20th century. Throughout the Dust Bowl and Great Depression years, the scissor-tailed flycatcher was poached to dangerously low levels. Poachers would kill these birds by the thousands, solely for their tails. Selling for 2 cents apiece, the tails were a hot commodity and could be quickly sold to European hat makers. Thankfully, strict laws and a staunch conservation effort saved the scissor-tail from possible extinction.

first the terrible pain of loneliness itself, then the pursuant pains brought on by loneliness. Thus, we learn from extensive studies by all neuroscientists that loneliness moves some regions of the brain to bring on illness, cognitive decline and early death. It is easy to see how this vicious chain reaction dumps countless lonely people into the funk of dark blues, full-blown depression, alcohol and drug abuse.

"Beauty is only skin-deep, but ugly is clean to the bone," we heard often from the old folks who used many such sayings to keep us realistic and down-to-earth. But, if ugly is clean to the bone, so is inner beauty, character, mercy, compassion, generosity, peacefulness, cheerfulness and loving companionship. Sooner than any external beauty or attraction, this inner beauty will dispel loneliness and draw others to you to get a piece of whatever wonderful action is alive in you.

Yes, instead of being reactive to loneliness and its causes, we can proactively use the above-mentioned positives of inner beauty with stunning effect. Some churches are targeting the lonely in their bulletins, outreach programs and planning.

Reflections

the desert, most of our present-day folks around the globe actively pursue certain types of people, the marvels that science and technology offer us, and indeed all that the world has to offer, and still are not connected to themselves and to others. Since Roman emperors had killed some 2 million martyrs, it is quite fascinating that a great part of the hermits' motivation for going to live in the desert was their firm belief that the austere desert lifestyle was the moral equivalent of martyrdom.

Relatively few people want to live alone, and very few want to die alone. The deep unknown beyond death is a daunting, fearsome prospect that we must face alone but for our belief that our Savior Jesus and his angels will escort us.

What a shame, sadness and waste it is that lonely human beings have to suffer asked for an exemption. They didn't qualify at that time. They asked me what it would take to qualify for an exemption. Several sets of leadership have asked the same thing over the years.

"In 2015, new leadership came in and they made changes to the charter. They now qualify. The law doesn't give me the option (to say no) at that time. It says these properties 'shall be exempt from taxation.'

"The only definition I'm accepting is what the law says and eh accepted practice of the secretary of state's office. They filed their paperwork in 2015. ... It is not an exemption that may be given or may not be given. It's not an issue for the board of supervisors. There was no 'back-door meeting' and that's offensive and it never happened."

Ladner said most of the yacht clubs in the state have the fraternal and benevolent organization ad valorem taxation-exempt status.

Chris Roth, treasurer for the BWYC and a former commodore, said Monday that there was no evil intent behind the club charter change.

"We found out that we were eligible and that other clubs had done the same thing," Roth said. "It's not a self-enrichment thing. Nothing goes to the stockholders and nobody benefits from the sale of the business."

"Bay-Waveland Yacht Club was originally chartered in 1898 and the club has a long history of involvement with our community," according to a press release issued Monday by the BWYC board members. "We strongly believe that BWYC is not only a resource for our members, but for our community as a whole."

"BWYC has always been and continues to be engaged in activities for the benefit of our community, the state and others in addition to our members."

Among those items, it lists: "Paying tideland leases of over $12,000 per year; pay sales taxes of approximately $40,000 per year; sponsoring sailing camps that accept non-member children with some on scholarship; provides access to the club facilities to high schools for social events and those with sailing programs; provides DMR and search-and-rescue access to the club launch facilities; sponsors boat safety classes for members and the public; sponsoring annual events for the benefit of our members and the community in celebration of national holidays; hosts civic club functions and social events specific to these civic clubs; hose local, state, national and international regattas that attract hundreds of out-of-town guests who support local businesses; sponsor regattas for high school and collegiate competition; supports Coastal Clean Up and other conservation initiatives; and hosted the first Bridge Fest after Katrina."

Hawks & Pirates find win column, Tigers & Rocks stumble in first week of high school football season

BY JOSEPH W. GEX,
II
STAFF WRITER

The first week of the high school gridiron season is in the books and the area went 2-for-4 in the opening stanza.

The Hancock Hawks had to come from behind in the fourth quarter to steal a 10-7 victory from the Pearl River Central Blue Devils on the road while the Pass Christian Pirates held off the Long Beach Bearcats 34-31 in the opening game for South Mississippi on Thursday evening at Lumpkin-Magee Stadium.

The Tigers (0-1) narrowly fell to the Hurricanes of West Harrison last Friday evening 22-21. Both teams scored all their points in the first half as the second half was greatly affected by the weather that passed through the area.

Josh Peters started under center for the Tigers and was 3-for-5 passing for 68 yards. Semaj' Robertson also took snaps and rushed seven times for 68 yards.

Cade Compretta scored the Tigers' first touchdown on the year on a six-yard plunge. Compretta finished the game with 27 yards on seven carries.

Dominic Anderson added 28 yards on 10 carries including a one-yard scoring plunge.

Maxwell Lewis had three carries for 62 yards and a 35-yard scoring run.

Kaleb Leavens led the Tigers in receiving with three catches for 73 yards.

On defense, compretta paced Bay High with 14 tackles followed by Jordan Calomese with 11 tackles and two tackles for loss. Dylan Spiers contributed eight tackles.

On Friday, Bay High returns home to host Lumberton which defeated North Forrest last week 44-7.

Lumberton was paced on offense by sophomore running back Robert Henry with 181 yards and three touchdowns on 18 carries.

The Hawks (1-0) snatched a 10-7 victory from the grasps of the Pearl River Central Blue Devils with some fourth quarter heroics on the road.

The Blue Devils led the entire way until Blake Comeaux found the end-zone in the final stanza.

Austin Hyde kicked a field goal in the third quarter to cut PRC's lead.

In the game, Comeaux had 22 carries for 100 yards and a touchdown. Anthony Flowers added 41 yards on the ground. Brooks Rayburn had two receptions for 61 yards.

On defense, Trenton Ladner led the way with 12 tackles including two tackles for loss while Tyler Kapp added seven tackles with four tackles for loss.

This Friday Hancock returns home to host South Jones which fell to Sumrall last week 36-7.

The Pass Christian Pirates (1-0) jumped out of the gates quickly with a 34-31 win over Long Beach on the road.

The Pirates were paced by junior quarterback Dustin Allison who was 11-for-18 passing for 237 yards and a touchdown and rushed for 106 yards and two scores in the win.

Gordon Ward added two rushing touchdowns on his 48 yards rushing while Dylan Necaïse led the receivers with three receptions for 125 yards.

Ward also had a solid game on defense for the Pirates amassing six tackles including two sacks and forced two fumbles.

This week the Pirates host Jackson-Lanier who defeated Morton 22-13 last Friday.

The Rocks (0-1) got off to a slow start on Friday night and the 90-minute lightning delay did not help, either.

The Rocks fell to the Biloxi Indians 42-7 in the Shrimp Bowl.

With the score 14-7 in favor of Biloxi, SSC made a goal line stand as time expired in the first half. Then the lightning and rains came. Biloxi came out energetic and ready to make things happen. In the second half after the break while SSC appeared lethargic and emotionless. The Indians went on a 28-0 run in the second half for the win.

Delvin Henry led SSC on offense with 166 yards and a touchdown on 20 carries while Pat Greer threw for 158 yards on 13-for-27 passing with two picks.

Dallas Payne led the receivers with six catches for 60 yards while Brandon Bordelon added two receptions for 58 yards.

On defense, Trace Rhodes led the charge with 13 tackles and a pass breakup followed by Lee Negrotto with eight stops and a hurry. Nate McCormick and Blake Bilich each recorded seven stops.

This week the Rocks are idle before resuming action on Friday, Aug. 31 against St. Paul's Episcopal of Mobile 'between the walls'.

All games this week are set for a 7pm kickoff. See you at the games!

The late James Bevis of Diamondhead, Mississippi, received a posthumous NASA Exceptional Service Medal for 15 years of service as the Stennis chief financial officer until his death in November 2017. Bevis began his NASA career as a budget analyst in 1980. He joined the Stennis team in 1995 and assumed the chief financial officer role in 2002. Bevis contributed extensively to the success of the NASA/Stennis mission by providing expert management and oversight of program and institutional funding of about $300 million annually.

Hugh V. Carr, a native of Picayune, Mississippi, and resident of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, received the NASA Exceptional Service Medal for his expertise and service as a NASA environmental specialist since 1988, as well as 11 years of contractor service prior to that time. Carr serves as administrator of the Stennis natural resources program and manager of the NASA-wide Geographic Information System (GIS) Principle Center. His career service has been characterized by exceptional ingenuity and innovation and has contributed greatly to the success of the Stennis mission.

Ralph M. Gonzalez of Gulfport, Mississippi, received the NASA Exceptional Service Medal for 35 years of service, including the last 12 in the Stennis Safety and Mission Assurance Directorate. Gonzalez served as a contractor before joining the NASA team in 2006. Grief Support Group to meet next month in Diamondhead

Thomas Episcopal Church is pleased to offer a six-week Grief Support Group to our Diamondhead and greater Hancock County Community. The six-week program will begin on Tuesday, September 4, 2018. If you or someone you care about has been dealing with emotional pain due to the loss of a spouse or other dearly-loved person, you are invited to participate.

This will be a structured program which will include educational presentations to help us understand our overwhelming feelings of loss and how to better deal with them.

It will also provide a safe, caring support group and an opportunity to share our own personal memories and issues.

The goal of these groups is to provide our community with a support vehicle to deal with the difficulties and emotional turbulence that follows the death of a loved one. Grief is a normal human process that all people experience in the course of life. The healthiest healing involves a process of working through the pain.

We grieve most effectively when we find ourselves with others who understand and are willing to hear our pain.

The groups will provide a safe, confidential place to share individual memories, thoughts, and experiences and to begin the process of moving into the next phase of your life.

The Grief Support Group will last for six weeks and will be held at St. Thomas Episcopal Church, 5303 Diamondhead Circle, across from the Diamondhead Community Center.

The meetings will start at 6:30 p.m. If you have any questions, please call 2 2 8 . 2 3 4 . 2 6 5 1 , 228.255.9213, or 228.363.2211 for further information.

tency, gaining a reputation for quality expertise in construction contracting. She has awarded/administered several construction projects at Stennis and also served as a contract specialist at Wallops Flight Facility. She is a champion of employee involvement and serves on a number of employee teams.

Three Stennis employees and one group received the NASA Silver Achievement Medal. This medal is awarded by NASA center directors to individuals or teams for a stellar achievement that supports one or more of NASA's core values.

Laurence de Quay of Slidell, Louisiana, received the NASA Silver Achievement Medal for his substantial contributions to development and issuance of several critical and complex technical engineering standards at both the center and agency levels. A NASA theoretical simulation analyst, de Quay has served as the Stennis Engineering and Test Directorate manager of technical standards since 2005. He also serves as the Stennis representative on the NASA Engineering Standards Panel.

Justin Junell, formerly of Slidell, Louisiana, received the NASA Silver Achievement Medal for his leadership of the investiga-Junell led all phases of the investigation, creating a comprehensive fault tree and formal lessons learned, which were shared with project stakeholders and the propulsion test community. His efforts were marked by attention to technical detail and exceptional leadership skills.

Karma K. Snyder, a native of Biloxi, Mississippi, and resident of Diamondhead, Mississippi, received the NASA Silver Achievement Medal for her work as an aerospace technologist and support of key projects related to propulsion test and test infrastructure facilities. She previously served as the systems engineer for the Space Launch System core stage test activity on the B-2 Test Stand. She has provided extensive support to the center's range utilization efforts and is one of two people designated as an official range safety officer for unmanned aircraft systems operations at Stennis.

The Rocket Test Facility Co-Location Team received the NASA Silver Achievement Medal for outstanding collaboration and performance in the excution of a critical test program on the B-1/B-2 Test Stand. The NASA/contractor team was assembled to determine if RS-68 testing on the B-1 side of the stand could safely proceed in conjunction with Space Launch System core stage testing on the B-2 side. The team specifically focused on possible hydrogen and air/oxygen blast overpressure from RS-68 testing negatively affecting the core stage. The team developed a process to test over-pressure levels and evaluated resulting data to determine that both test projects could proceed safely. Team members included representatives from Stennis, the Rocket Propulsion Test Program Office, Marshall Space Flight Center, the White Sands Test Facility, Aerojet Rocketdyne, Boeing, Syncom Space Services and Bangham Engineering.

PRCC Offers Local Businesses Recruitment Opportunity

SEA COAST ECHO

All Locations – Pearl River Community College has recently made it available for local businesses to post job opportunities to a student accessible portal called Career Coach on PRCC's website.

PRCC has been using Career coach since it was grant funded in 2012 to allow students the tools to learn about potential majors and career options, as well as build their resumes. Students will now also be able to make those resumes accessible to potential employers and apply for jobs in one convenient place.

PRCC is proud of their current ability to place students straight into full time jobs, especially as they leave career and technical programs. This new tool is only going to make that easier. Local businesses will now have direct access to the hiring pool of PRCC's students. One local business has already been approved to post a position on the site.

"Company benefits include direct exposure to those seeking employment in a particular field of work, an increased pipeline of potential workers, access to student resumes, and savings of time and money by reducing necessary recruitment efforts for new employees," said Tina Coleman, Career and Technical Student Services Coordinator. "It's important that we build our relationships with local businesses and this is just one way to do that."

Businesses that are interested in taking advantage of this opportunity should contact Tina Coleman for more information at 601-403-1105 or 601-403-1255.
